The Ghana School Feeding Programme (GSFP) is organizing a training of trainers workshop under the Social Accountability Project (SAP) from the 13th to the 15th of April 2011. During the workshop, participants which include civil society organizations and staff of the GSFP will reflect and share social accountability experiences and practice and generate lessons learnt. Other objectives of the workshop include the review of social accountability tools and their applicability in the Ghanaian context, examine the context and influencing factors on the conduct of social accountability and ultimately develop action plans and commitments to engage with stakeholders in the GSFP.

The three-day workshop will be structured as follows:

Day One: Learning lessons and phasing forward; reviewing participants' experiences from the field in Social Accountability

Day Two: Concepts, context and conduct of Social Accountability in Ghana and the GSFP

Day Three: Methods and tools for Social Accountability, planning and commitments
