About 1.5 million school children across the country are expected to benefit from an expanded school feeding programme by 2012, the Minister for Local Government and Rural Development Mr. Samuel Ofosu Ampofo has said.

The programme which is collaboration between the Government of Ghana and its Dutch counterparts to feed school pupils with a balanced meal per day has already increased coverage from below six hundred thousand pupils in 2008 to over 1 million school children as of September 2011. Read more